Stratton Favorable To Lake for Area

Governor Indicates to Delegation Money Can Be Approved for Land

Gov. William G. Stratton yesterday gave favorable reaction to a local plea for a state conservation lake in the Spring Valley area a short distance south of Rudement in Independence township.

A delegation of a dozen local men was met by state legislators and others in meeting Gov. Stratton at a conference that had been arranged by Sen. Glen O. Jones.

After hearing the story, asking questions, studying maps and looking at pictures, Gov. Stratton strongly indicated that money for land acquisition and engineering could be included in the budget for the present biennium, contingent upon the local group being able to furnish the land at a figure presented yesterday to the governor and upon the findings of the engineers.

The engineering would include the making of core drillings to determine the feasibility of constructing the dam.

The governor was told that a gentleman's agreement had been secured in writing for the land, which gave the land description and the selling price asked. Options would be the next step.

The amount of land involved is more than 600 acres and the lake itself would cover 200 acres or more.

Assisting in the presentation were Sen. Jones and State Representatives Paul Powell, Gordon Kerr and C. L. McCormick. Sitting in on the conference and putting a stamp of approval on the proposal was Glenn Palmer, director of the State Department of Conservation.

"It's a very interesting project, and the country is beautiful down there," Gov. Stratton commented.

Others in the delegation were Lowden Pankey, G. C. Benson, R. R. Brown, Morris Skaggs, John W. Towle, Wayne Gideumb, O. L. Turner Jr., John C. Wilson, Robert G. Miley, Kenneth C. Capel, Richard Davenport, J. O. Wells and W. K. Turner.

Bumper Peach Crop Predicted

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—The Illinois Fruit Council here says all indications point to another bumper peach crop in southern Illinois this year.

Barring unforeseen low temperatures, southern Illinois peach men are expecting peak peach blooms from April 7 through 10, depending on locations and temperatures.

The last total freeze of the area peach crop occurred in 1955 when the mercury dropped to 6 degrees on March 25 with the orchards in full bloom. Last year's bloom came on April 4 and produced a bumper crop.

Illinois growers anticipate a crop of about 750,000 bushels of peaches, with some 600,000 bushels to move into commercial channels, the council says.

Harvest of early varieties of peaches will begin in southern Illinois about July 1, with heavy volume harvest about Aug. 5 through 10. Northern Illinois peach areas will harvest into mid-September.

Miss Augusta Swan, 92, Dies at Her Home in Toledo; Well Known Here

Miss Augusta Swan, 92, of Toledo, Ill., died at her home there yesterday morning. Following a funeral service in Toledo on Wednesday morning there will be a service in Enfield about 2:30 Wednesday afternoon and the body will rest in the cemetery there.

Miss Augusta, as she was known through the years to a host of friends, was the daughter of Rev. B. C. Swan who was an early pastor of the First Presbyterian church here and in 1882 assisted in the building of the first church structure. When the present church was dedicated following a fire and rebuilding a few years ago of the second building, Miss Augusta was the only person who had attended all three of the church dedications. She had formerly taught music in Harrisburg for seventeen years and it is understood that she was still teaching piano and a Sunday school class in Toledo at the time of her death.

Born in old Shawneetown February 21, 1865, in the old Marshall house which became the first bank building, possibly in the state, Miss Augusta returned to the Marshall house with the Michael Hillegas chapter of the DAR when an historical marker was placed on the side of the building. She later moved to Carmi then to Enfield, but she so loved southeastern Illinois that she came annually to visit it with her friends and relatives.

Her brother was the late Dr. W. S. Swan who for many years lived at 2 East Walnut street and treated the illnesses of the community. He was most active in all community projects and in his church until the time of his death at an advanced age.

Miss Augusta Swan was educated through tutoring from her mother, attendance at the old Southern Illinois Academy at Enfield, and Western University at Oxford,

Boy is Viciously Tortured, Killed

OMAHA (UP)—A 17-year-old boy was tortured and killed today in what police described as one of the most vicious crimes on record in the city.

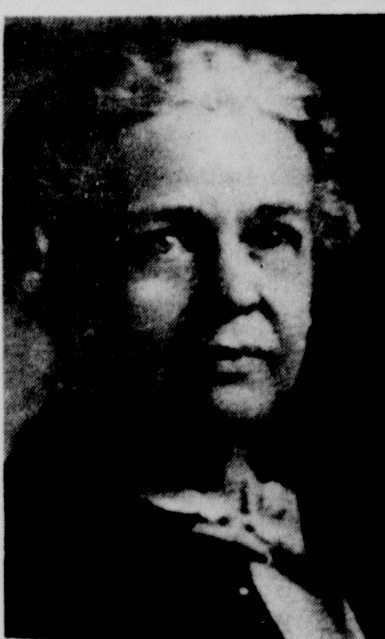

The body of Donald Larry Marfisi was found with the right hand burned off, apparently with an acetylene torch, and the bottom of his feet burned through his shoes.

Marks on the body indicated the killer or killers had bound him with rope before torturing him. The boy died of severe burns and shock, Douglas County Coroner George Sullivan said.

Sullivan said two teeth were broken, apparently when the boy gripped his teeth in pain.

Police rounded up teenagers who knew young Marfisi, on the theory that the killing might have been the work of a teen-age gang.

One 14-year-old under questioning admitted he had been with Marfisi Monday night, but claimed he had left him before 8 p. m.

Miss Augusta Swan

Ohio, later becoming a music teacher at Creal Springs College. Honored on Birthdays

When Miss Augusta was 87, Mrs. S. M. Farrar honored her with a birthday party and about 50 of her friends were there to wish her well and hear her play, at their request, hymns and classic pieces on the piano.

Possibly the most memorable birthday was her 81st, when friends gathered in the home of her nephew, James E. Scott, for an open house gathering of her friends during the afternoon and evening. It is remembered that she played for the guests the first piano piece that she had learned, "Silvery Spring," by Coote. "Doll's Dream" by MacFadden. "Pollaca Brilliant" by Weber and selections by Chopin whose birthday, February 22, was so near her own. This was a remarkable feat for a woman 81, but Miss Augusta was known for her great energy and the love for her friends.

Her passing brings to a close a life of service and great dignity.

Pass Bill to Take Custody from Unwed Mothers

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A bill designed to take custody of children away from unwed mothers bearing two or more illegitimate babies went to the Illinois House today.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. R. C. Crisenberry (R-Murphysboro), specifies that the bearing of two or more illegitimate infants would be "prima facie" evidence that such children were in an unsuitable home.

Under the bill, passed Monday by the Senate, county welfare departments could seek court action to have the children taken from the mother's custody.

Public aid officials advised lawmakers that the biggest percentage of children supported by the Aid to Dependent Children program are illegitimate.

Some mothers collect money under ADC for several illegitimate children, sometimes involving several different fathers, aid authorities said.

Crisenberry said the bill is aimed at cutting the cost of ADC by "taking the profit out of illegitimacy."

The Senate also passed and sent to the House a bill to increase the size of the Youth Commission from three members to five.

The $5-million-dollar Korean bonus plan was advanced to passage stage and is expected to win easy approval.

Another bill passed to the House would remove the flat limit of $65 a month for blind assistance and leave the amount of assistance to be determined by the Public Aid Commission in individual cases.

Another bill would require public aid recipients to immediately notify the public aid office of any change or improvement in their financial status.

Among other child welfare bills passed by the Senate today was a measure increasing from $40 to $60 the monthly amount allowable for the care of a dependent or delinquent child, and authorized court placement of such children in approved private homes "with such additional payment as necessary" from county funds.

Two other measures passed and sent to the House would permit counties to increase from $40 to $60 the payments made to industrial schools for boys and girls, for youths committed to such institutions. Payments above the $60 maximum could be ordered by the courts.

Iran Gov't to Quit Because of Three Slayings

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Gholi Ardalan told United Press today that the government will resign Wednesday. The move is believed to be a result of the slaying of three Americans.

"The government has not yet resigned," he said. "We are holding our final meeting tomorrow afternoon, after which we will tender our resignations to his royal highness, the Shah."

Gendarmerie sources reported, meanwhile, that three of the bandits believed to have killed the Americans have been slain in a fight with federal police near the Pakistan border in remote south-east Iran.

Although the slaying of the three Americans last week is considered the triggering action which set off the resignations, the underlying reason is the Shah's dissatisfaction with the nation's economic progress under Premier Hussein Ala.

Ala is scheduled to attend a memorial service at midday Wednesday for the three American victims of the brigands. They are Mr. and Mrs. Kevin M. Carroll, Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, Portland, Ore.

The Shah is expected to call upon Dr. Manouchehr Eghbal, presently court minister and chancellor of the University of Tehran, to form a new cabinet on Thursday morning.

Ardalan is almost certain to be re-appointed foreign minister, which indicates a continuation of Iran's adherence to the Baghdad Pact and to policies of pro-Americanism and anti-communism.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Iran has informally suggested it would be willing to pay an indemnity for the deaths of three Americans slain by an Iranian bandit gang, informed sources said today.

So far there has been no official offer to pay families of the trio. But Iran has indicated one will be forthcoming.

Volunteer Workers Attend Kick-Off Luncheon for Cancer Drive

Mrs. Morris Skaggs will serve as chairman for the 1957 Educational and Fund-raising campaign of the Saline County chapter of the American Cancer Society. The campaign began Monday with a kick-off luncheon at the 45-Drive-In with many volunteer workers attending.

Under her leadership volunteer workers will seek to alert all residents to the need for regular health examination as a protection against needless cancer and they will work to raise $4655.16. The national goal is $30,000,000 which will be used to further the ACS three-fold fight of research, education and service.

"I am proud to be associated with such a meaningful public effort," said Mrs. Skaggs. "Cancer, considered man's cruellest enemy, annually takes a toll of approximately 250,000 lives.

"Thousands of these persons could have been saved by prompt treatment had they known the life-saving facts about cancer and acted in time. That is why we stress the public education aspect of this campaign and urge all persons to have regular health examinations as a protection against needless death from cancer."

"But the American Cancer Society needs the generous support of all our citizens. Funds for re-

Plan to Expand Runway, Other Improvements

Construction Plans Outlined By Dale Sullivan

The Harrisburg-Raleigh Airport has been allotted $22,000 in federal funds for construction and improvement of airport facilities during the fiscal year 1958, it was announced in Washington today by Sinclair Weeks, Secretary of Commerce.

Dale Sullivan, chairman of the airport authority's board of commissioners, said today that the allocation will be part of the money for extending the main NESW runway at the airport on Route 34 between Harrisburg and Raleigh. Mr. Sullivan explained that the federal government recently allocated $7,000 for land acquisition and that the land, 31 acres immediately west of the present airport boundaries, is under option with the sale scheduled to be final June 1.

Upon this acreage the present NESW runway, which is paved for 1,800 feet, will be extended with an additional 1,000 feet of runway.

Also, he said, the present 1,800 feet will be resurfaced and the runway lights will be extended to the new 1,000 feet.

Adaptable to Larger Planes

Another phase of construction will be a new six-unit hangar building.

This is a program which was mapped out by state and federal aeronautic agencies and handed to the local board of commissioners, Mr. Sullivan continued.

"The agencies have insisted that this work be done," he declared. "It will make the airport adaptable to larger planes and possible commercial service in the future."

He added that the $2,000 of federal money will be matched by a like or slightly greater amount by the State of Illinois and that local funds amounting to 25 percent of the total cost also will be used.

Secretary Weeks also announced these other allocations:

Mount Vernon Municipal Airport $5,000; Flora Municipal Airport $51,500; Fairfield Municipal Airport $35,000; Salem-Leckrone Airport $10,000; Capital Airport at Springfield $260,000; Champaign-Urbana University of Illinois Airport $160,000.

Mother, Son Sentenced

CROWN POINT, Ind. (UP)—A mother, who plotted the murder of her husband, and her son, who carried out the plan, today began serving lengthy prison sentences.

Mrs. Gladys Martin, 35, a brunette, was sentenced late Monday to life imprisonment. Her son, Anthony Brewbaker, 17, was handed a 2-to-21-year jail term.

They previously had pleaded guilty to the Oct. 29, 1956, slaying of Robert Martin, 32. His body was found in a woodland near Hammond, Ind., and at first the mother blamed a "hitchhiker" for the killing.

However, they later confessed the boy pumped six bullets into his step-father's back at the instigation of his mother, who called her husband an "abusive drunkard."

EVERYONE IS INVITED TO ATTEND

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Only The Democrats Defend Ike's Budget; Housewives Will Suffer From Airing Of Food And Drug Inspectors; Economy Headlines Won't Mean
Many Savings In The End.

WASHINGTON. — Last week,
Washington watched a stampeding coalition of Republicans and Dixiecrats cut down appropriation after appropriation in the Eisenhower budget like a tractor-drawn mowing machine knocking down a field of hay.

In their headlong rush for economy, they lopped off such items as $20,000 for research into radiation from atomic fallout. Apparently the congressmen did not know that we live in an atomic age. They knocked off $100,000 to revise the cost of living index, something both management and labor find absolutely necessary in fixing wages.

They knocked out $50,000 to hire three or four women in the women's bureau to study the employment of older women, a problem which has greatly increased of late. The coalition shrewdly prompted Congresswoman Blitch of Georgia to make the motion cutting the women's bureau.

And they knocked off $100,000 for the Bureau of Veterans' Re-employment, an agency of great importance to veterans, especially since the GI Bill of Rights is no more.

As these important, but inexpensive items were thrown into the congressional ashcan, not one Republican rose to champion the budget of the Republican administration. Some of the Democrats stood up to defend the President, but not one Republican.

PIDDLING SAVINGS

After three days of frantic amendments, Congressman John Fogarty, Rhode Island Democrat, reminded his hell-bent-for-economy colleagues that they had cut only $1,345,000.

"At that rate," said Wayne Hays, Ohio Democrat, "in 30 days we could cut it $10,000,000, and if we stayed here a year or 300 days we could cut it $100,000,000."

"I want to reiterate to you," reminded Democrat Fogarty, chief champion of the Eisenhower budget, "that you pass laws and then you fail to carry out your responsibility of seeing that necessary appropriations are made to administer them."

"The amendments offered during the last three days have been without constructive evaluation of what damage they will do. In your hysteria you do not stop here."

"My friends on the other (Republican) side of the aisle have been notable conspicuous by the anemic support they have given their leader, the President of the United States."

"The press has been carrying stories of tens of millions of dollars of savings. Now let us set the record straight. Let us not fool the public and let us not fool ourselves. The greatest part of the so-called savings will not save the U. S. Treasury one cent."

He went on to point out that commitments had been made by the U. S. government, in many cases to the individual 48 states.
And that if the money was not appropriated now, Congress would simply have to come back and appropriate it later.

CUTTING FOOD AND DRUGS

Republicans, however, paid little attention to the Democratic champion of the Eisenhower budget. They kept on cutting. They cut $1,000,000 for new inspectors for the Food and Drug Administration, chief watchdog of American housewives.

At present, Food and Drug has enough inspectors to inspect chicken-processing plants only once every 12 years. It can inspect many drug companies only once every eight or nine years.

It has been trying to curb the use of poison sprays on fruit and vegetables. It found oyster dealers watering their cans so the public was buying more water than oysters. It had difficulty checking Salk vaccine because of its shortage of inspectors.

However, Congressman Charles Jonas, the only Republican from North Carolina, moved to strike all money for additional inspectors. He won by a margin of one vote—though a roll-call vote will come up again today (April 2), at which time the House could reverse him.

Jonas did not win, however, until after another Carolinian, Mendel Rivers, this one a Democrat and from South Carolina, went to bat for the Republican President's budget and for more protection for housewives.

"During the month of February," Rivers said, "271,000 pounds of contaminated food products were taken off the market. Another 239,000 pounds were destroyed by the owners under the supervision of inspectors. Six drug products were seized because they were improperly labeled. A bakery was seized because the pies and cakes were contaminated with insect and rodent filth."

"The Food and Drug Administration is small," continued the South Carolinian. "Meanwhile, the volume of all these foods, drugs and cosmetics has been growing in proportion to the needs of our expanding population. The 300 FDA inspectors are responsible for the checking of over $62 billion of products."

Congressman Rivers made an eloquent appeal for funds to help inspect the food and drugs of the nation. But when the vote was taken, most of the Republicans joined with enough Democrats to vote down the new inspectors—unless the House reverses itself on the roll-call vote today.

ECONOMY-GO-ROUND

The attack on Ike's budget was carefully planned by the Rep-Dem coalition in advance. Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia had a list on his desk of all items in the Labor Department and Health, Education and Welfare budgets, with the name of a Dixiecrat or a Republican next to each item, indicating who would introduce the cutting amendment.

When the coalition picked Mrs. Blitch of Georgia to cut the Women's Bureau budget, she grabbed the microphone and bel-lowed without asking Rep. Fogarty to yield—though he had been yielding to every request. By mistake, Mrs. Blitch suggested an even bigger slash than she had been told to make. She had to be rescued by Anderson (R., Minn.), who introduced the correct amount.

Actively working to save the Food and Drug budget were lobbyists for the AFL-CIO. Food and Drug has nothing to do with wages and hours, but AFL-CIO leaders have vigorously supported this and other social-welfare legislation.

Two years ago, Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, then head of HEW, picked a citizens committee to study Food and Drugs. It found the Food and Drug Administration was still on a pre-war basis, despite the vast expansion of U. S. output in food and drugs.
It recommended that the FDA be expanded fourfold within 10 years.
However, it still remains on a 1951 level. Last year FDA completed 1,240 court cases involving violations of the law, studied 17,675 samples of domestic products, found 2,214 to be dangerous. It inspected 31,602 products imported from foreign countries, refused entry to 5,234.

Which cup has the TOPIC?*

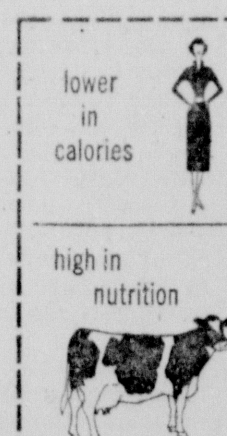

*The cup on the left has the Topic. In coffee it looks and tastes so much like cream, coffee lovers can't tell the difference!

Amazing new fresh-tasting Topic tastes just like expensive cream in coffee!

Imagine a new kind of dairy product that looks and tastes like real cream in coffee, yet costs only about 1/4 as much!
It's Topic—not a canned milk, not evaporated milk, not a powdered product—but a remarkable new achievement of dairy science. Has the fresh taste and rich body of cream in your coffee—without the high price and excess calories!

So make the Topic coffee test today. Buy several cans in your grocer's canned milk section. Serve it to your family and guests.
You'll agree that fresh-tasting Topic enriches coffee the way you like it!

Whipped Topic has 70% less calories than whipped cream, and 30% less calories than ordinary table cream!

Topic is fresh whole milk, with all the fat and half the water removed
...and with light vegetable oils added. And Topic has extra units of Vitamins A and D!

PLANS JUNE WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grable of Hutsenville, formerly of Muddy, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Jean, to Ronald Parker Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Biggs of Robinson. The wedding is planned for June eighth.

Shower for Dianna Rees

At A. D. Gidcumb Home
A stork shower was held in the home of Mrs. A. D. Gidcumb, 927 South Granger, at 7:30 p. m. on Friday for Dianna Rees. Dianna is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gidcumb of 610 North Webster, while her husband, David Rees, is in Texas with the U. S. Air Corps.

There were games and prizes, refreshments, and many gifts from her host of friends, some of whom could not be present at the party. The prizes were won by Mrs. Thelma Wiley, Mrs. Fred Armistead and Mrs. Frances Golden.

The table held a cradle filled with yellow chrysanthemums and there were yellow chrysanthemums around the punch bowl. The guests were served punch, tea, sandwiches and jello-cake. Attending were: Mrs. Pattie Prather, Mrs. Dorothy Curtis, Mrs. Frances Golden, Miss Margie Mills, Mrs. Pat Erkman, Mrs. Lella Suver, Mrs. Kathleen Calvert, Mrs. Edith Gidcumb, Mrs. Aola Moore, Mrs. Madge Schwartz, Mrs. Ivor Stephenson, Mrs. Alvin Render, Mrs. Verla Jones, Mrs. Sybil Mitchell, Mrs. Kermit Cotton, Miss Marlene Cotton, Mrs. Fred Armistead, Mrs. Thelma Wiley, Mrs. Francis Kinchloe and daughter, Anita, Mrs. Marjorie Harding, Mrs. Cora Schwartz, Mrs. Imogene Dixon, Mrs. Billie Gidcumb, Mrs. Martha Gidcumb, Mrs. Bobbie Cooper, Mrs. Naomi Rees, Mrs. Ruth Gidcumb, and the hostess.

Mrs. Mary E. Cook and Navy Sons Visit Here

Mrs. Mary E. Cook and family of Manteno were visitors with relatives and friends in Harrisburg last week end. Charles Cook is stationed at the Great Lakes Naval station and Benny, who has just finished training at the U. S. Naval station in San Diego, Calif., is on duty in the Pacific. Patsy Ann Cook travelled with her mother and brothers on this trip.

Couple Visits Here While En Route to Tour of Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stafford of Portal, Ariz., visited in Harrisburg last week end, while en route to New York, from where they will sail for Europe to tour seven countries during the next several weeks. They expect to be in Rome on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Stafford is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Russell, Carrier Mills, who is a patient at Lightner hospital due to a heart ailment. They visited in the home of a niece, Mrs. George Rees, on South Granger street.

The Staffords have lived in Arizona for 40 years and in the past few years sold their large ranch consisting of several sections of land, retiring to a beautiful home up in the mountains.

Their own lives are romantically coupled with the west of a half century ago. Mr. Stafford was a "cowboy" and through mutual friends who "went west" from this area he and Miss Nora Swanner struck up a friendship, and through correspondence with one another became "engaged."

She "got cold feet" before the wedding date and wrote to tell him not to come to Harrisburg, but the mails being what they were in those days and the lonely rancher hurrying toward Harrisburg and his wedding, he did not get the letter.

With the arrival of the tall slender cowboy, "dark and handsome," her qualms were overcome by her lover and the wedding took place. They went to Arizona together and she recalls riding horseback 15 miles to pick up their mail during the homesickness and loneliness of a prairie lass on the western plains.

Ambition and opportunity favored them mightily. He was in the cattle business to stay and she did much to further this ambition. By cooking at a "dude" ranch during the season when tourists were coming west in large numbers, she earned enough to add to their land holdings.

Now, in their sixties, zestful and curious to "see the world," they have set out on a journey that will take them to the lands of their earliest American ancestors, and their relatives here look forward to hearing all about it upon their return.

Friendship Class Meets

With Mrs. Madge Showalter

The Friendship Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church held a party at the home of Mrs. Madge Showalter instead of the regular monthly meeting on March 25. A report was made on the results of the chili supper which the class held in the church on March 21.

The party began with visiting and ended with the playing of games. Refreshments were served of whipped jello salad, crackers and coffee.

Attending were Mrs. Betty Cook Jerrell, Mrs. Ann McGehee, Mrs. Bernice Benson, Mrs. Retta Simmons, Mrs. Betty Rice Jerrell, Mrs. Rose Lee Dorris, Mrs. Vickie Burroughs, Mrs. Faith Thurman, Mrs. Trudy Wilson, Mrs. Jerry Wilson, the hostess, and her assistant, Mrs. Millie Hollingsworth.

The next meeting will be April 29, the place to be announced.

Mrs. G. H. Dorris, Pontiac, Mich., formerly of Harrisburg, is returning this week end to Pontiac, from a visit with relatives and friends in Harrisburg and vicinity. She is a sister of Mrs. John Jarrell and Mrs. W. C. Kane of Harrisburg.

ME: Right! This J-2 Rocket* is really a new driving experience!

FRIEND: Well, I've handled a Rocket Engine before, but nothing like this. They've always had pep, but this one's got that extra pep when you need it!

ME: Don't forget economy.

FRIEND: Yes, but you can't feel economy.

ME: Feels pretty good to the pocketbook.

FRIEND: Right! But it beats me how you get economy with a big car like Olds.

ME: Easy. For cruising around, you just use one dual-barrel carburetor.

FRIEND: Bet that waters down your performance some.

ME: Not a bit. I've got regular Rocket performance right through the economy range. And believe me, that's plenty. But if you need more power...

FRIEND: Then what?

ME: Go to Stage Two. You just saw what that does. Give it three-quarters throttle and you've got three dual carburetors dishing up more power and torque.

FRIEND: Tell me the truth, I've always liked an Olds. Thought we might get one ourselves some day.

ME: Checked the price lately? You'd be surprised how easy it is to own.

Six Killed in Crash of B25

DICKSON, Tenn. (UP) — An Air Force B25 sounded like it back-fired with two loud "pops" before it exploded and crashed in a rain with a loss of six lives Monday, a witness said.

The plane was carrying 10 civilians and Tactical Air Command personnel from Langley Air Force Base, Va., to a meeting in Memphis, Tenn. Four survivors were hospitalized with injuries.

Survivors said there was no advance warning of engine trouble. Allen J. Petty, a farmer who witnessed the crash, said he was attracted by the sound of a "pop" in the air, "looked up and heard another pop—and then there was an explosion."

Six bodies were found at the crash scene about eight miles south of here. Wreckage was strewn over a one-mile area.

The injured, all hospitalized here, included: 1st Lt. Robert C. Mommie, 24, of Isle of Palms, S. C.; John Sampson, 45, Haskell L. Daniels, 41; and Jack M. Evans, 28, all TAC civilian employees.

The dead included: Col. Theodore R. Wright Jr., of Hampton, Va.; Lt. Col. Alan D. Moore, 37, of Hampton; Lt. Col. Jacob R. Hamilton, 38, Warwick, Va.; Lt. Col. Haslan C. Buttrill, 42, Hampton; Maj. John W. Browne, 41, Hampton; and Airman 1-c Ernest Chandler, 22, of Hampton.

Nursing Schools Seek State Aid

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Legislature will be asked for a state subsidy to help support hospital nursing schools, the Illinois Hospital Assn. has announced.

Leon C. Pullen Jr., Decatur, association president, said Monday the state subsidy will be asked to relieve hospital patients of the "financial burden of meeting the net cost of nursing education through the medium of added charges for hospital services."

He said a study showed that nursing education programs cost Illinois hospitals a net of about four million dollars a year and the cost is being paid by patients.

He said he did not believe additional scholarships could solve the financial problem because they pay only a small fraction of the total cost of educating a nurse.

He said training for one nurse costs about $680 a year after crediting cash income from tuition, scholarships and endowment and after giving allowance for the hours a student works as part of her training.

Southern Author Robert Tallant Dies

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Robert Tallant, noted southern author and chronicler of New Orleans lore, died Monday at his home.

Tallant would have been 48 on April 20. He was found dead by two of his aunts in the kitchen of his home. They said he recently had complained of a severe cold and influenza.

Tallant was best known for his fiction which usually had a New Orleans background. He wrote "Mrs. Candy and Saturday Night," in 1947, and Mrs. Candy Strikes It Rich," in 1954.

Union Rejects Beck Plan for 'Truth' Campaign

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Teamsters Union Executive Board has overwhelmingly turned down Teamster President Dave Beck's proposed 1 million dollar "truth" campaign, the Washington Post and Times Herald said today.

The newspaper said only Beck and his executive assistant vice president, Einar Mohn, voted for the plan at a secret all-day and evening meeting Monday at the union's multi-million dollar national headquarters here.

A reliable source reported that the revolt against Beck was led by Teamster Secretary-Treasurer John F. English, the newspaper said.

Beck announced the publicity campaign last week in Seattle to tell the public and the nation's 1,500,000 Teamsters the "truth" about Senate charges that he took $322,000 in union cash for his personal use. He said the Executive Board approved the money for the campaign in a "telephone poll."

English immediately challenged him. He said he knew of no approval for the publicity campaign and would oppose the plan as long as he held office.

Beck slipped into town during the week end after a quick trip to his home at Seattle, Wash., and closeted himself for hours with the Executive Board.

His secretary, Mrs. Ann Kotin, said Beck told her after the meeting there "will be no statement at this time. She said he planned to be back at his office today.

Eden Suffers Relapse

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP) — Sir Anthony Eden suffered a "slight relapse" of an abdominal disease and doctors today ordered him to speed up his timetable for hospitalization at Boston.

Eden had planned to await a convenient sailing passage for Boston before leaving New Zealand, perhaps the end of this month.

Reliable sources said Eden probably would fly instead, perhaps leaving Thursday.

It was at Boston where he underwent surgery in 1953 for a gall bladder ailment. The illness returned and forced his retirement as British prime minister last January.

He had hoped a leisurely vacation in New Zealand would restore his health, but he has had recurrent attacks of fever.

Have you thought of asking for a raise?

One way of getting a raise is to ask the boss for it. But here's another practical suggestion: ask yourself for it. More people every day are putting their extra money to work to raise their income. Here's what many tell us they are doing:

First: They realize you don't have to be wealthy to own stock — that two out of three shareholders have incomes under $7500 a year. Then they think, "Why can't I do that?" And they decide that maybe they, too, can own stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Second: Acting promptly on this discovery they drop in that very day on a broker in a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. There they receive a friendly welcome and lots of information. They find out that by using the Monthly Investment Plan they can buy stocks in some of America's most famous companies for as little as $40 every three months — up to $1000 a month. The Plan helps them invest regularly, on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Third: When they buy stock they become part owners of a company. As owners they can share in profits through dividends. And if the company grows the value of their stock can also grow. Or if they buy bonds, they become creditors of the company and, in most kinds of bonds, the company promises to pay interest at a fixed rate and to repay the principal of the bond on a fixed date.

Fourth: Before they invest a nickel they get the facts about the company. They never act on tips or rumors. They know that a company may not grow and may not pay dividends. And they use only money left over after the bills are paid and family emergencies provided for.

Fifth: But they know also that there are more than 300 stocks on the Exchange that have paid cash dividends every three months from 20 to 92 years. They've read about them in our free booklet "INVESTMENT FACTS" which not only gives the records of these stocks, but tells many interesting facts about the earning power of stocks, how much it costs to buy and sell, where to go for information and advice on investing.

That's how people all around you are putting their extra money to work to bring income from investments in stocks or bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. If you'd like to learn more about investing, why don't you drop in to see a friendly broker with a nearby Member Firm—or clip the coupon. It costs you nothing.

Study Financial Dealings

Seek Underworld Hoodlum for Questioning in Banker's Slaying

CHICAGO — Authorities today sought an underworld hoodlum for questioning and studied a tangled net of financial dealings in their investigation of the kidnapping-murder of a wealthy Chicago banker.

The body of Leon Marcus, 61, was found dumped in a vacant lot Sunday night. He had been shot in the back of the head.

The victim's pockets bulged with money, including a mysterious check for $300,000, another $9,400 in bank checks, $3,600 in traveler's checks and $1,640 in cash.

Also found was a receipt for $100,000 from Sam Mooney Glancana, who police termed a syndicate vice and gambling chief. The receipt was for payment on a $150,000 mortgage on a suburban motel.

Lt. James McMahon, homicide chief, said it was possible that Marcus had become entangled in underworld financial affairs and was taken for a "ride" by gangland thugs.

He also theorized the murder could be linked to the $2 1/2 million Orville Hodge scandal. Marcus, a Latvian immigrant with a third grade education, formerly controlled the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., where ex-State Auditor Hodge cashed many of his phony state checks.

McMahon said he might go to Menard State Prison to talk with Hodge and two others convicted in the huge embezzlement of state funds.

At a coroner's inquest Monday, a friend told how Marcus was abducted shortly after leaving his apartment. The friend, Alfred Rado, a lumber firm operator, said Marcus had dined with him and his wife, Joyce, Sunday night.

Shortly after Marcus left, Rado said, he screamed for help and was grabbed by several young-looking men and shoved into a car.

The inquest was continued until April 23 to give police investigators more time. No members of Marcus' family appeared at the inquest. His wife was reported to be vacationing in Florida.

One of the big mysteries in the case was the check for $300,000 which Marcus apparently had carried for about nine months without attempting to cash.

The check was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio, and was signed by "John O. Harmon," who bank officials identified as an Evansville, Ind., oil promoter killed in a car crash last fall.

An attorney for Harmon said his client had been in debt and that his estate was insolvent.

Hoover Defends Oil Industry's Tax Allowance

ST. LOUIS —Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the former President and recent under-secretary of state, today defended the oil industry's tax allowance for depletion as vital to future petroleum reserves.

Hoover, now a consulting geological engineer in Los Angeles, was the keynote speaker at the annual convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

"The present rate of 27 1/2 percent has been applicable to the petroleum industry for over 30 years," he said. "Any revision downward could have the most serious effect on our national security in terms of our future petroleum reserves, especially at a time when the costs of exploration and development are increasing at a rapid rate."

Greater Missionary Service

will be given by Mrs. Hilda Moore of Norris City.

The afternoon program begins at 1:00 with devotions by Mrs. Bertie Rippey of Carmi and the afternoon topic, "Lift Him Up in Christian Living," will be given by Mrs. Madge Wilson of Norris City. Officers for the coming year will be elected and a banner awarded to the society with the highest grade on the Standard of Excellence. Special music will be furnished by visiting talent.

A highlight of the afternoon program will be the sermon by Bro. Dany Affleje who is from Guam and is also attending the Oakland City College. He, too, will return to his country as a missionary when his studies are completed.

Snowstorm Hits Plains Area

By United Press

The second big snowstorm of the spring spread through the Great Plains today. It approached blizzard proportions in some areas.

To the north, 20-degree-below cold poured down out of Canada. To the south and east of the heavy snow area, thunderstorms struck.

The new storm, following last week's damaging blizzard, hit hard in Colorado, and dumped 11 inches of snow at Lander, Wyo.

Warnings of heavy snow were issued for Colorado, western Kansas, western Nebraska and the Oklahoma Panhandle. Near blizzard conditions were possible in southern Wyoming. Northern New Mexico was alerted by a provisional snow warning.

Livestock Producers Propose Voluntary Eat More Meat Drive

WASHINGTON —A parade of livestock producers asked the Senate today to let them use their own money for an "eat more meat" promotion drive.

The producers, representing a variety of organizations, told a Senate Agriculture subcommittee they favor a proposal to finance the program through a voluntary deduction from the sale price of animals they sell. The deduction would be 10 cents per head on cattle and 5 cents a head on lambs, sheep and swine.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson advised in a letter to the committee that his department opposes a bill authorizing such a deduction. He said he favors promotion activities but the government should not be involved in arrangements for collecting and spending the money.

Peace Far More Important Than Tax Cuts, Ike Says

By United Press

President Eisenhower, in a speech indirectly aimed at Congress, said today that achieving world peace is "far more important" than cutting taxes.

"As much as we hate taxes," the President said, the high price of running the government must take second place behind the "overriding objective for peace."

Mr. Eisenhower made his remarks in an impromptu speech to the Washington Conference of the Advertising Council. But they were clearly meant to be heard also in Congress where persistent efforts are being made to reduce the President's budget sharply.

Mr. Eisenhower urged the council to study his budget closely in the light of what he had said about the necessity of maintaining world peace.

Ted Williams Apologizes for Marine Corps Blast

SARASOTA, Fla. — Ted Williams apologized publicly today for remarks attributed to him in a New Orleans newspaper interview. "I have too many friends and have spent too much time in the Marine Corps not to know that that organization is tops," he said.

The apology by the Boston Red Sox slugger was contained in a mimeographed statement handed to newspapermen at the club's hotel headquarters. Williams, who had telephoned his remarks to a club spokesman, did not appear in person.

Monday by a vote of 49-1, with Sen. David Davis (R-Bloomington) casting the lone nay vote.

The bills were sponsored by Sen. Dennis J. Collins (R-De Kalb) and a number of other senators.

Kansas City A's and Pirates Battle to Brilliant 0-0 Tie in 18-Inning Game

By United Press
Of course, it could be the major leagues' idea of a huge April Fool's Day joke, but were those really the Pittsburgh Pirates and Kansas City A's who had all that wonderful pitching?

The calendar said April 1, sure enough, but it could have been Oct. 1 with the likes of Don Larsen and Sal Maglie pitching against each other in the World Series as the seventh-place Pirates and eighth-place A's battled to a brilliant 0-0 tie in 18 innings at West Palm Beach, Fla.

And this great pitching was backed up by real World Series-type fielding by Bob Clemente of the Pirates and Milt Graff of the A's.

The KC heroes were veteran righty Ned Garver, who allowed only three hits for the first six innings; ex-Yankee Mickey McDermott, who did even better by permitting just two singles in seven frames; and rookie Carl Duser, who yielded a stingy two hits in the last four.

Pirate laurels went to Ronnie Kline, last year's top losing pitcher in the National League (18 losses) who permitted four singles in eight innings; Bob Purkey, who yielded five hits in eight innings; and Vern Law, who allowed two hits in two frames.

The A's threatened in the 18th but Cletus Boyer, attempting to go from first to third with none out on Vic Power's single to right, was thrown out by Clemente. The Pirates' only scoring chance went down the drain in the seventh when Graff's great play robbed Dick Groat of a key base hit.

So there it was—the most brilliantly pitched game so far this spring. Could be these two underdogs have enough hurling this year to cause even more surprises.

The Pirates and A's had the spring training stage to themselves Monday as all other games involving big league clubs were rained out.

Ike's Caddy is Fired; Too Slow For President

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A heavy-hearted caddy at the Augusta Masters golf tournament this week will be a frail Negro called "Cemetery," who's been fired as presidential caddy.

Pro Ed Dudley of the Augusta National Golf Club confirmed Monday that veteran caddy Willie Perette, 51, has been "relieved of his duties" as President Eisenhower's personal caddy because he has become too slow.

Dudley, who usually plays with the President during the Chief Executive's golfing visits here, said the job has been given permanently to "Slim Jenkins," who caddied during the President's last trip.

Willie, dubbed "Cemetery" by the President himself, is "getting a little old and he can't keep up with the President," Dudley said. Perette was formerly called "Dead Man."

"Mr. Eisenhower likes to play a fast game and Cemetery can barely make it up the hill to the first green."

Perette became the President's caddy soon after Eisenhower began vacationing at Augusta promptly got his newer nickname.

The story goes Perette was called "dead man" because he once got as far as the morgue after being carved up in a knife fight but revived.

Perette said that when the President heard the story he commented that "All dead men belong in cemeteries and he said from now on he'd call me cemetery—and he did." Now everyone else does, too.

Ted Williams Includes President Eisenhower in Blast at Politicians

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams stuck today to the guns he fired at the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and the Marine Corps and apparently included President Eisenhower in a sweeping denunciation of all politicians.

At the same time, the "third man" present during the Boston Red Sox slugger's latest popoff said Williams had been partly misquoted by Executive Sports Editor Crozet Duplantier of the New Orleans States. Duplantier wrote Monday that Williams attempted to "pull strings" to avoid being recalled by the Marines during the Korean conflict and spat on the floor at the mention of former President Harry Truman's name.

Referring to 'Friend'

Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe, who arranged the interview with Duplantier, said Williams actually was talking about a friend who attempted to obtain a deferment from Sen. Taft and explained that Tempestuous Ted was "just doing a lot of spitting"—and wasn't necessarily spitting at the mention of any individual's name.

President Eisenhower's name was brought into the story when Hurwitz gave his version of Williams' comments on "gutless politicians."

"We've got a lot of gutless politicians in this country," Williams said. "I didn't want to meet the President nor did I want to meet Harry Truman. I don't like gutless politicians. The whole system we have is phony. That goes for all the United States of America."

Hurwitz told the United Press that he interpreted that to mean Williams had turned down invitations to meet both President Eisenhower and Truman "because of his dislike for anybody connected with politics."

Once Admired Taft

Williams confirmed his statements that he "lost respect" for Sen. Taft and also that he "resented" being recalled into the Marines' in 1952. Williams, who had previously served three years with the U. S. Navy Air Force during World War II, flew combat missions in Korea at the age of 34.

"I used to admire Sen. Taft," Williams said. "I thought he was a wonderful man. But a friend of mine was called back for Korea like I was. He knew Sen. Taft. He went to him and asked if he could help him get a deferment."

"Do you know what Sen. Taft told him?" Williams said. "He said, 'I can't touch you. If you were just an ordinary person I could help you but because you are pretty well known I can't do a thing for you.'"

About the Marine Corps, Williams said: "Sure, I resent being called back at the peak of my earning power" and added he thought other prominent persons were "picked on" because they were public figures.

TRAFFIC JAM — Jackie Robinson's retirement didn't leave the Dodgers exactly impoverished for third basemen. Four could do the job. They are, front to back, Don Zimmer, Dick Gray, Jim Gilliam and Randy Jackson.

'Play Me or Trade Me,' Should Be Byword for Baseball Players

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (NEA) — It doesn't require an overpowering amount of baseball intelligence to know that all of the Brooklyn phenoms are going to be sent out again.

An observer who doesn't catch on too quickly gathers this from talking to Manager Walter Alston. Fresno Thompson, supervising the drilling of and appraising 300 more athletes at Vero Beach, backs him up.

The Yankees will also return to the higher echelons of their chain players who would crash spring headlines as members of 10 other major league outfits. The infield which came up from Denver — Marv Throneberry, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Woody Held — would be that of several other big league clubs, for example. Yet Kubek is the only one of the four being given serious attention by Casey Stengel.

"PLAY ME OR TRADE ME" should be the byword of superior performers being shuttled back to farms because there is no place for them on the parent club. This most certainly would help the movement toward a fairer distribution of talent.

Hank Greenberg years ago showed the kid who really wants to play what to do. Young Han-gus Pankus saw Lou Gehrig at first base for the Yankees and signed with the Tigers. The lad with more than one scout on his tail is a sucker to sign with the Yankees or Dodgers, that is unless he is a Mickey Mantle or a Duke Snider. That's the trouble. Most kids believe they are a Mantle or a Snider.

The boy who wants quick action should line up with one of the have-nots.

WE STARTED OUT WITH the Dodgers, so let's wind up with them. Clubs now must be down to 28 men on opening day, which means that a half dozen or so prospective Brooks who would be front line material on other big league outfits are headed back to the minors before April 16.

Included among them are Outfielder Don Demeter, First Baseman Jim Gentile, Shortstop Bob Lillis, Third Baseman Dick Gray and Catcher Johnny Roseboro.

Demeter manufactured 41 homers and drove in 128 runs for Fort Worth of the Texas League. Demeter is so accomplished in center field that Roy Campanella nicknamed him Joe D., after the nonpareil, DiMaggio, of course.

FARM DIRECTOR THOMPSON, the long-time infielder and as fine a judge of ivory as there

First public museum in America was organized January 12, 1773. It became the Charleston (South Carolina) museum in 1915.

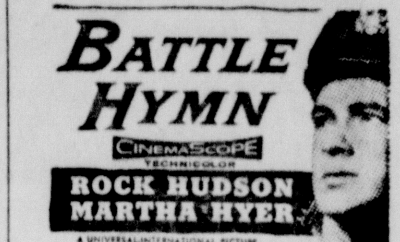

Farrell in Tucson, Ariz., and General Manager Hank Greenberg in Daytona Beach, Fla., Monday before giving a "no" answer to a request by Greenberg 24 hours earlier that he end his retirement. For several hours before that, Rosen strongly leaned toward rejoining the team even if it meant quitting his fulltime job at the Cleveland office of Bache & Co., investment brokers.

"My future in Cleveland is predicated on my family, my job and my happiness," Rosen said after announcing his "final" decision. "I've decided once and for all that I cannot jeopardize that future for one more year of baseball."

Few Royal Canadian Mounted Police are still mounted on the job, automobiles and airplanes serve as their steeds.

Wild Jack smirked at Morgan, closing one eye in a wink. "You got a gun on you, Morgan?"

"Of course not," snapped Morgan. "On'y asking. I aim to keep the peace and I figure best way's to have the customers check their hardware when they come in."

He winked. "The folks made up some punch and it's got a touch of something strong in it." Morgan took Cass's elbow and moved her into the big room. There was a table against the wall on which were deposited coats and hats. Cass dropped her cape on it and whispered to Morgan, "Golly, I'm scared all of a sudden. Maybe I don't know how to dance."

"Then we'll learn together," said Morgan. Morgan kept his eyes on the top of Cass's taffy-colored hair as he concentrated on the steps, but then his eyes flickered away from his partner and he gave a slight start as his eyes met those of Helen Jagger less than six feet away.

She was dancing with Judge Drake. She wore a wine-colored velvet evening gown that fitted her perfectly. She had done something to her hair and it was shimmering gold. She was the loveliest thing Morgan had ever looked upon.

His dance partner suddenly looked up at him. "Am I—I am I dancing all right?" she asked. "Excellent," he murmured. Then she almost collided with Helen Jagger, who had moved closer with her partner. Helen's hand dropped upon Cass's shoulder.

"Cass, my dear! I'm glad to see you again." Cass almost jumped, then recognized Helen. "Miss Helen," she exclaimed. "We just got in from Texas and I—I—she floundered, gulped and said, lamely—"I don't know how to dance!"

"You're doing marvelously," said Helen. Her eyes suddenly met Morgan's. "Good evening, Chad." Morgan nodded. "You're looking well, Helen."

Helen laughed merrily and the two couples moved apart. "She's beautiful!" Cass whispered to Morgan. She suddenly looked up at him. "I—I know about you and Mr. Jagger having a fight. It broke your engagement to Miss Helen—"

Morgan grimaced. "You've heard all this since you got in town this afternoon?"

"Oh, no! I knew it back home. I've known it for a long time. How you and Mr. Jagger had a real, dragdown fist fight and you licked him. There's always folks dropping in who've been up the Trail. We keep right well posted on what's going on up North."

Morgan looked toward the door and saw General Simcoe standing at Charles Fesler's table. With him were Tom Alder, still wearing the long bearskin overcoat, and the Simcoe trail boss, Sam Acres.

At the table, the general was paying for himself, Alder and Acres. They were about to go on farther into the room when Wild Jack tapped the leathery-faced Sam Acres on the shoulder.

"Your hardware, cowboy," he drawled.

Acres looked at him in astonishment. "Why should I give you my gun?"

"Because I'm telling you." A row of nails stuck in the wall and Wild Jack indicated that several guns already hung there.

Acres gave Wild Jack his revolver with ill grace. The marshal looked at Tom Alder.

"You carrying a gun under that coat?" Wild Jack asked.

"No," retorted Tom Alder, even as he gripped the butt of a revolver

State Chairman Addresses Meeting Of Cancer Workers

Four local women attended the luncheon meeting held at the West Frankfort Country club recently as guests of David L. Harrington, state chairman of the American Cancer Society for the 1957 drive for funds.

The large group of volunteer workers from this district was welcomed by Goebel Patton of West Frankfort and he introduced Dr. John A. Rogers, Chicago, executive director of the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society, who told of the research program. Dr. Rogers stated that 40,000,000 persons now living will die of cancer if the present rate continues.

Mr. Patton then introduced Mr. Harrington who is chief executive officer of the Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation of Chicago who stated that the national goal is $30,000,000. "Remarkable progress in the Crusade against cancer was reported recently. New data shows that as a result of public education and improved treatment, one in three persons who gets cancer is now being saved—and previously this figure was one in four," Mr. Harrington stated.

As chairman of the State campaign he used the volunteer workers to organize their counties immediately so that the state quota of $1,650,000 could be met successfully.

A discussion followed with chairmen of the various counties reporting the progress they had made toward the April drive.

Those attending from Saline county were Mrs. John C. Humm, county chairman; Mrs. Joseph McGuire, Harrisburg chairman; Mrs. Louis Gaskins, service chairman, and Mrs. Morris Skaggs, Saline County Drive chairman.
